

Dear Professor,

I'm Nouran Yousef Salah, assistant professor and manager of the Pediatric Diabetes, Endocrinology and Metabolism Unit, Ain Shams University. I want to apply for the position of the Chair of Diabetes Research and Clinical Practice Guidelines Committee position. I'm a young clinician and researcher working in the field of pediatric diabetes, endocrinology, and metabolism since 2012. I have an H index of 9 with 75 international publications in high-indexed journals including Metabolism, Pediatric Diabetes, Diabetes/ Metabolism Research and Reviews and Diabetes Research and Clinical Practice in which I was the corresponding author and I've reviewed over 200 manuscripts for international journals including Metabolites. I'm an advisory board member of Diabetes Therapy and has received the ATTD breakthrough outcome award 2024 and the Ain Shams University Incentive Award 2024. I'm an active member of the ISPAD, ASPED, ESPE and ASPAE and I'm a member of the ATTD early career education committee. I attended the ISPAD Allan Drash Fellowship on 2022, the ISPAD science school 2014 and 2024 and the ESPE DOM school 2020. I'm interested in providing the best diabetes care and technology for children and adolescents in the Arab region and undergoing research aiming at prevention, early diagnosis and treatment of both T1D and T2D. Joining the Diabetes Research and Clinical Practice Guidelines Committee is a great experience I'm looking forward to.

Best regards,

Nouran Salah, MD, PhD

Assistant Professor and manager of the Pediatric Diabetes, Endocrinology and Metabolism unit, ASU, AFCM